Founders of Zanes Law Doug and Claudia Zanes both sit on the board of directors for the Blair Charity Group, whose mission is to serve Arizona’s youth by offering high-quality, year-round programming that promotes teamwork, leadership and community service in a sports-based setting.

“The proceeds from this event go directly into our programming and help us to provide leadership and social skill-based basketball camps and clinics to not only the city of Tucson but Southern Arizona,” said Joseph Blair, former University of Arizona basketball star and founder of the Blair Charity group. “We have been honored to have the continued support of both Doug and Claudia Zanes for not only our events, but also the camps and clinics themselves. Their community mindedness and giving hearts are among the reasons that our program has been able to thrive.”

“This is one of the best family events that Tucson has to offer because after you’ve paid admission – it’s unlimited everything!” said Claudia Zanes, Director of Business & Marketing (Non-Attorney) for Zanes Law. “And it raises money for a good cause, which we love. We help make people’s lives better after they’ve been injured and Joseph helps make the future brighter for the youths of our community. We’re so happy to help with ‘Putt-ing Kids First.’ ”
